

Inpatient Extended Stay, Adult Rotation, Unit 2B
Four Month Rotation
Center for Behavioral Medicine

Unit 2B is a 15-bed extended stay-acute adult inpatient unit. Presenting problems may include severe and persistent mental illness, suicidal/self-injurious behavior, affective disorders, personality disorders, and co-morbid developmental disability and/or substance abuse diagnoses. The average length of stay ranges from 90 days to one year. By the end of the rotation, interns will be providing services commensurate with that of the supervising psychologist and will be versed in implementing treatment strategies based on case conceptualization and psychological assessment. Minimum rotation requirements are outlined as follows:

Psychotherapy	Description
Individual Psychotherapy	Interns will carry a minimum of three psychotherapy cases. Interns are encouraged to identify areas of sameness and differentness between themselves and their patients. They are encouraged to identify how they may adjust their interactions and interventions as to increase their effectiveness.
Group Psychotherapy	Interns will participate in at least two on-unit psychotherapy groups and one off-unit Positive Behavior Management group. Interns will establish their own therapy group for patients during this rotation.
Psychological Assessments	Description
Assessment/Evaluation	Interns will complete psychological evaluations with a minimum of one integrated psychological testing report.* First drafts of reports are due to the supervising psychologist within ten business days of the last date of testing. Other evaluations may include initial and annual assessments &/or baseline cognitive functioning assessments.
Professional Development	Description
Treatment Team Member	Interns will attend at least one team meeting per week. Interns will be present in team meetings scheduled to review their assigned patient's progress. Interns will communicate with patient's LINC before the review dates; will consult on treatment plans and behavior management plans; and will complete initial and annual reviews when assigned.
